

FMD Emergency Preparedness

Veterinarians and registered veterinary technicians / technologists refresh your skills with the latest information and training

This training initiative is one of several activities planned in partnership with industry professionals, associations and producers across Canada.

For more in-depth information and specific serious animal disease resources please visit:

animalhealth.ca
Phone (403) 870-8784
Email: ahem@declercq.ca

Online May 4 - June 1, 2020

BUILDING CAPACITY AND CONFIDENCE

New training opportunities to improve disease recognition and response.

Beginning in May 2020, AHEM and its partners will be offering an informative, online course for veterinarians and registered veterinary technicians / technologists focusing on Foot-and-Mouth Disease (FMD).

ONLINE FMD EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS COURSE

Informative

Benefit from the latest information and training in FMD recognition and serious animal disease response procedures as you work through five engaging units.

Interactive

Connect with international and Canadian experts, and participating colleagues, during live interactive webinars and discussion forums.

Beneficial

Enhance existing skills while collecting continuing education credits. This program has been approved for 12 hours of continuing education credit in jurisdictions that recognize RACE approval.

Convenient

Complete the self-paced course in just 12 hours from the comfort of your office or home over a four-week period.

Informed private practitioners are integral to protecting Canada's livestock industry

MAY 4 - JUNE 1, 2020

REGISTER ONLINE: animalhealth.ca/ahem/training

COST: $150 Veterinarians and Registered Veterinary Technicians / Technologists

$90 Canadian Veterinary Reserve Members

Space is limited so don't delay – register now

